(the “Center”), which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2016, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors’ judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Lesbian and Gay Community Services Center, Inc. as of June 30, 2016, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited Lesbian and Gay Community Services Center, Inc.’s 2015 financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those audited financial statements in our report dated December 15, 2015. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended June 30, 2015 is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

1. Organization and Tax Status (continued)

Information and Referral Services – The Center provides a place in which LGBT people can meet, seek services and find support. What truly differentiates the Center is the sense of home it provides for the more than 6,000 people who visit each week.

Meeting rooms and event spaces for rent – The Center hosts a variety of parties, fundraisers, dinners, cultural events and educational opportunities – all celebrating the LGBT community.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

   Basis of Presentation and Use of Estimates

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”), which requires the Center to make estimates and assumptions relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingencies at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

   Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

The allowance for doubtful accounts is based on factors such as the age of the receivables and the history of the payee. Receivables are written off against the allowance at the point in time where management deems that all reasonable collection efforts have been exhausted.

   Cash Held for Other Agencies

The Center maintains cash for others in connection with transactions in which the Center acts as an agent. This cash is reported in the statement of financial position with a related liability account categorized under amounts held for other agencies.

   Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment purchases above $2,000 that the Center retains title to and which benefit future periods are capitalized at cost, or if donated, at the estimated fair value at the time of donation. Property, plant and equipment purchased with funds from government contracts where title remains with the grantor and it is not probable that the Center will keep the asset at the completion of the contract are expensed in the year of purchase.
2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight line method as follows:

- Buildings and improvements: 5-35 years
- Furniture and equipment: 3-10 years

The Center evaluates its long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances would indicate that the carrying value of assets may not be recoverable. Long-lived assets would be deemed to be impaired if projected undiscounted future net cash flows are less than the carrying value of the assets. There was no impairment loss recognized in 2016 and 2015.

Deferred Revenue

Fees collected that relate to programs that will occur in future periods have been recorded as deferred revenue and will be recognized in the period earned.

Net Asset Presentation

Unrestricted net assets include funds having no restriction as to use or purpose imposed by donors. Temporarily restricted net assets are those whose use is limited by donors to a specific time period or purpose. Permanently restricted net assets are limited by donors for investment in perpetuity.

Contributions and Promises to Give

Contributions are recognized when the donor makes a promise to give that is unconditional or when substantially all conditions have been met. All contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are considered available for unrestricted use, unless specifically restricted by the donor or subject to other legal restrictions. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and are reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Third-Party Reimbursement and Revenue Recognition

The terms of each government grant are reviewed to determine if they contain traits more closely associated with contributions or exchange transactions. Management has determined that all existing government grants are exchange transactions because of their conditional and reciprocal nature. As such, government grant receipts are recorded as refundable advances (liabilities) until they have been earned. Once the conditions have been satisfied, the advances are recorded as income. Grant receivables have been established to reflect amounts due relating to services performed that are earned under terms of the government contract.
2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Special Events

Direct costs of special events where donors receive a benefit, such as meals and facility use are shown as a reduction of special event revenue on the statement of activities.

In-Kind Services

Donated services are recognized in circumstances where those services create or enhance non-financial assets or require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills and would typically need to be purchased if not provided in-kind.

Board members and other individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Center. These services have not been recorded in the financial statements as they do not meet the criteria outlined above.

Advertising

Advertising and promotion costs are charged to operations when the advertising first takes place. Advertising expense for the years ended June 30, 2016 and 2015 was $92,140 and $23,300.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Accordingly, certain administrative, fundraising and maintenance costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services.

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes

The Center recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not to be sustained. Management has determined that the Center had no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement recognition or disclosure.
